

Dr. Megha. P. Arakeri received her Ph.D from NITK, Surathkal during the year 2013. She is currently working as Professor in the Computer Science & Engineering department of Manipal Institute of Technology, Bangalore. She has 20 years of teaching and research experience. She has several publications in reputed International conferences and journals and has also written book chapters with a total of 548 citations to her credit. She is a senior member of IEEE. Her research interests are in the fields of Computer Vision, Pattern Recognition, AI and Machine Learning.